FROM YOUNGSTOWN

a total transformation

YOUNGSTOWN'S NEW FRONT DOOR

During the summer of 2019, the gateway to downtown Youngstown got a totally new look with the opening of The Youngstown Foundation Amphitheatre. Situated on what once was one of the most industrialized corridors in the country, this beautiful complex is now the region's newest outdoor entertainment venue. The 4,800-person facility opened to rave reviews, and during its inaugural season, crowds enjoyed concerts by Chicago, Earth, Wind & Fire, Brett Eldredge, Gucci Mane and Rob Thomas, just to name a few. The Amphitheatre is part of the new 20-acre Wean Park, which provides recreational green space, walking paths and great views of the downtown Youngstown skyline.

A little history: The Hamilton Works, a small foundry and machine shop founded in 1856, was the first industry to occupy this site. A succession of other companies followed, including The William Tod Company and Lloyd Booth Company. Both were acquired by United Engineering of Pittsburgh in 1916, which became the largest manufacturer of rolling mill and steel-works equipment in the United States. United Engineering merged with the R.J. Wean Company in 1971 and became known as Wean United. The factory continued to operate until 1982, when, citing a depressed steel market, Wean United closed its Youngstown plant and it was eventually abandoned. Years of neglect created quite an eyesore at the gateway to Downtown.

Fast-forward to March of 2012 when the City of Youngstown proposed using a Clean Ohio grant to partially fund environmental cleanup of the site and demolition of the buildings. After many years of planning, Wean Park and The Youngstown Foundation Amphitheatre became a reality.

The transformation of this space from industrial to recreational is nothing short of remarkable. Check the schedule of events planned for 2020 by visiting theyoungstownfoundationamp.com and plan your visit to experience all of the exciting revitalization happening in downtown Youngstown.

HANDEL'S ICE CREAM CELEBRATING 75 YEARS

On a hot summer day in July, 1945, Alice Handel began serving ice cream out of her husband's gas station. Her first batches were made using old fashioned recipes with fresh fruit she picked from her own backyard. The flavors were an instant hit and today, Handel's has grown to include locations in 10 states across the country. The menu has expanded to include over 100 flavors of ice cream and yogurt.

Handel's Homemade Ice Cream is made fresh daily, one batch at a time, at each location. Nuts, creamy caramel, deep dark chocolate, fresh fruits and fluffy marshmallows are blended into specialty batches. It is this T.L.C. that has helped Handel's continue its long tradition of excellence which has been documented in many national publications including USA Today, People Magazine, Chocolatier Magazine and US News and World Report. Recently published books "The Ten Best of Everything" and "Everybody Loves Ice Cream" both recognize Handel's as one of the best ice creams in the world.

Every visit to Youngstown should include a stop at one of Handel's six Mahoning County locations for a taste treat you'll never forget. The only question is... which flavor will YOU choose?

a slice of heaven

As the home to countless local pizza shops, Youngstown was practically built on a foundation of crust, tomato sauce and cheese. From Valley favorites to unconventional concoctions, there's no shortage of pies to try in the Youngstown area. You'll find extra thick crust at Avalon Downtown and Swiss cheese on Elmtown pizzas. Listed below are just a few of the local pizza shops that are valley favorites.

And we can't talk about pizza without paying homage to Youngstown's most famous pie: Brier Hill Pizza. It's a combination of thick crust, tomato sauce, green peppers and Romano cheese. During The Great Depression, the Brier Hill neighborhood, aka "Youngstown's Little Italy" transformed plentiful tomatoes and peppers grown in backyard gardens into what is now known and loved as Brier Hill pizza.
